

Winning that SES job

Program overview

- An overview of SES recruitment in the public sector
- Do you have the 'right' background and experience
- Targeting your 'pitch'
- Managing the interview process
- Participation in a mock interview with selection panel
- Managing feedback – positive, negative and seemingly inconsistent

Advancing your career to the SES level can be challenging for even the most experienced and confident individual. If you are looking for insights into the SES selection process, tips on how to best present your claims and strategies to position yourself for success, then this program is for you.

This practical, one-day program is run as a small group, creating a confidential setting that will enable you to share and obtain information to help you be more competitive in future recruitment rounds. The program includes a short mock interview with an experienced panel. You will receive feedback on your performance as well as a video of the session to reflect on after the program.

Participant benefits

- Self awareness and assessment in terms of readiness and fit for the SES.
- Insights into how to best prepare your application and conduct yourself at interview (each participant will receive a copy of their performance and feedback received).
- Direct and immediate experience in presenting for interview at the SES level and managing feedback constructively.
- Opportunity to access executive coaching and mentoring after the course conclusion, tailored to your needs.
